Digital Main Street

9 months

ShopHERE Team Lead

September 2020 - January 2021 (5 months)

Toronto, Ontario, Canada

- Since its launch the ShopHERE program has grown to include 200+ team members to assist thousands of Canadian businesses. I'm fortunate to lead a team of 25 of these consultants, helping them identify strategies for engaging business owners and coaching them in how best to adopt e-commerce solutions within their business model

- Have contributed to scalable team education by creating training videos and have also become a subject matter expert on how to set up shipping with Shopify
- Day to day work continues to include resolving business owner escalations, identify training opportunities, and coaching my team members on how to effectively move their clients through the pipeline to speed up store launches to meet their targets, as well as offering feedback on what 'best in class' online stores should include

ShopHERE Coordinator

May 2020 - August 2020 (4 months)

Toronto, Ontario, Canada

- The City of Toronto's "Digital Main Street" program has been expanded to include "ShopHERE", a free program to help Canadian small businesses adopt e-commerce solutions and build resiliency during the COVID-19 pandemic. Official program partners include Shopify, Google, Facebook, and Square Online
- Work includes screening, onboarding, and training entrepreneurs while providing tailored advice on how to adapt their business model to leverage ecommerce and digital marketing; Part of the first 17 students working on the program.
- After 4 weeks working with clients, was assigned as a "Team Lead"; Managing a group of 15 students from a new cohort; Duties include training, coaching, & resolving challenges; hosting daily check-ins; reviewing quality of work and suggesting site improvements

Willful

Strategic Project Analyst

January 2020 - April 2020 (4 months)

Toronto, Ontario, Canada

Part of an elite group of 20 Schulich MBA Students selected for the Entrepreneurship 6960 MBA Course & assigned to work with the CEO/ Founder on a series of special strategic projects (market/product research, competitive intelligence and business case development).

My role at Willful is designed to work on researching, validating, and building out the requirements for upcoming features. I work on the "what's next" in Willful's roadmap, ensuring the ideas are strategic, customers want/need them, and then bringing them to life through business requirements so the engineering and product team can build them.

My responsibilities at Willful include:

- Research and market analysis - researching competitors and peers and creating recommendations for our products and pricing based on findings
- Customer research - interviewing customers and potential customers and doing market testing to determine appetite for products, and to refine pricing
- Product validation - working with our data and team knowledge base to validate and prioritize revenue-generating features
- Business requirements - building out the requirements for the product/engineering team to implement
- Communications recommendations - based on market analysis and research, making recommendations on framing/messaging for products like subscription in order to attract and retain customers

Also worked directly under the guidance of Schulich Entrepreneur in Residence and Co-Director of Entrepreneurial Studies Chris Carder throughout the Course, studying the innovation-based decision making processes, risk-evaluation, overcoming startup/scale-up challenges and strategizing breakthrough opportunities for startups.

RecruitLoop

5 years 3 months

Chief Of Staff

October 2018 - November 2019 (1 year 2 months)

As Chief of Staff, my priority is to help CEO Paul Slezak execute his vision for the business and to problem solve on his behalf, thus freeing up his time to focus on sales.

It's varied and challenging work that includes many different functions but especially the following:

- Develop strategies for company growth, and oversee the execution of those goals relating to customer retention and education; community education and growth; and team growth and development
- Maintain a 360 degree understanding of RecruitLoop's Marketplace and Sourcing businesses and how that connects through to the user experience for our customers and recruiter community; problem solve on a daily basis in order to keep the CEO's time and energy focused on driving sales

- Work with Head of Product to define product strategy for all users, and prioritize requests for new features and improvement of existing features
- Manage and coach our distributed customer success and community operations teams
- Maintain and update as necessary all automated backend operational processes, and find new opportunities to automate manual processes done by the operations team
- When geographically advantageous, meet with potential investors and/or acquisition partners to represent RecruitLoop in person

Manager, Marketplace Success

January 2016 - September 2018 (2 years 9 months)

My goal is to drive success in our Marketplace. That includes educating and engaging our recruiters; matching clients with recruiters; building product ideas to improve our Marketplace operations & UX; managing our support team & resources; worrying about a variety of different conversion rates, and much more...

Client Success Manager

September 2014 - December 2015 (1 year 4 months)

RecruitLoop is a marketplace platform for employers to automate and outsource the recruitment process, on-demand. Translation? We connect topnotch billed-by-the-hour recruiters with firms looking to hire. We launched in Australia in late-2011, and setup office in San Francisco in 2013, and we're pioneering the concept for Elastic Recruiting; recruiting that stretches with your needs - Use it when you need it, but don't pay for it when you don't.

Influitive

Support Magician

June 2013 - July 2014 (1 year 2 months)

Toronto, ON

Influitive is a rapidly-growing innovator in the advocate marketing space. With the innovative SaaS product, AdvocateHub, we have created a tool that allows modern marketers to capture the enthusiasm of their best customers, followers, and advocates; our mission is to infuse all aspects of a company's operations with the power of customer advocates.

As a member of the Customer Success team, I helped in pioneering the Agile Method of Customer Success. I helped to scale our business by building out our knowledge base with instructional and best practice articles, paired with complementary video content. For high-value clients, I created written content for the advocates of various B2B companies. In addition, I taught bi-weekly online AdvocateHub Classes for our users.

As the first point of contact for customer issues, I built relationships with our customers in order to understand their needs and provide feedback to our product management team about the user experience. My success depended on my accountability, initiative, creativity, technical adeptness, and skilled communication.
